MEXICO'S TROUBLES.

History of the Revolution Now in Progress.

THE CAUSE OF THE UPRISING.

It Was Began About Two Years Ago and Still Continues—Fierce Battles Have Been Fought and the Government Has Lost Heavily—How the News Has Been Suppressed.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Juan S. Hart of El Paso, Tex., editor of the El Paso Times, which has been proscribed by the Mexican authorities because of news regarding the Chihuahua revolution which had appeared in its columns, is in Chicago, and in an interview with the Associated Press reporter gave the cause of and the developments thus far in the revolution now in progress in Chihuahua.

"The number of revolutionists," said Mr. Hart, "is small, there not having been over 180 in the field at any time, but they have fought fiercely and government troops have so far suffered to the number of 600 soldiers and 30 officers, while 90 of the revolutionists and 94 of their women and children have so far met death at the hands of the soldiers. The general impression that the revolution is a continuation of the border trouble along the Rio Grande, which were led by Garza, is incorrect.

"The beginning of the present outbreak took place about two years ago in the central part of the state. At the little village of Tomochic, in the fall of 1891, the villagers, who were all Catholics, desired to celebrate a certain Saint's day by carrying the image of their Saint from their church to the mountains nearby, where a day of religious festivity was to be spent. They knew that such an act was a violation of the laws of Mexico, and that by paying a fine permits for such a celebration could be secured. They went to the town authorities, called the presidente, who refused the permit.

"A meeting of the villagers was held, the presidente was informed that the celebration would be held despite his refusal, and the festivities took place. The presidente became alarmed and notified the conductor of the monthly bullion train, then en route from the mining camps, that the men of Tomochic had revolted and were likely to rob the train. Officials of the city of Guerrero, with an escort of soldiery, immediately set out for Tomochic. The villagers heard of the approach of the government forces and the men left for the mountains, leaving the women and children at home. The latter barred the doors of their adobe houses, but the soldiers fired through the walls, killing two small children and an old man. And the judge of letters, who was with the party, was charged with outraging a maiden.

"After a few days in the village the forces returned to Guerrero and the Tomochics came back from the mountains. They buried their dead with oaths of vengeance and thus began the revolution. What money they had was invested in Winchester and ammunition and for months they quietly awaited revenge. President Diaz, after a time, declared them rebels and sent troops on an errand of extermination. At the first encounter there were but 88 Tomochics in the field and the federal troops numbered over 100. In the encounter which followed 24 soldiers and four officers were killed, while the villagers escaped without a wound.

"Then on Sept. 2, of last year, General Rangel, with 600 soldiers, appeared before the little village. In the engagement 100 men and nine officers fell in the federal ranks and but one Tomochic was wounded. Hostilities ceased for a time, but in November of last year General Hernandez, who is still fighting with the remnants of Tomochics, aided by General Corres and his Pima Indians of Sonora, the former commanding over 1,000 men and two Gatling guns, succeeded in an engagement of 10 days and nights in nearly exterminating the revolutionists.

"The latter had reinforced themselves to the number of 103, and but 12 or 14 escaped on the eighth night of the fight. The others were killed, but not until they had almost annihilated one regiment of the Mexican infantry and strewn the bodies of the soldiers so thickly on the ground that no effort was made to bury them. On the 10th day the victorious soldiers entered the village and commanded the women and children who had locked themselves in a church, to surrender. Upon their refusal the walls were tumbled in upon their heads and 94 defenseless villagers died in the ruins. It was a massacre in every sense, bloody, brutal and unpardonable.

"News of the various engagements has been suppressed by the Mexican government and stories of the battles emphatically denied. The suppression of news has, I think, been aided by officials of railroads in that vicinity, who feared that travel would be lessened by stories of the little war. There is no reason why this should be the case, however, as the scene of the revolution is remote from all railroad lines.

"The revolution is now practically wiped out, and it is probable that little more will be heard of it. The men are undoubtedly religious fanatics or they would not have attempted war under such uneven conditions, but they have fought bravely and well with the fierceness of despair, and have caused Mexico no little concern despite the numerous and sweeping denials of that government."

LIMA, O., Dec. 28.—What seems to have been an attempt to burn the western part of the city was made last night. Several dwellings were set on fire simultaneously and consumed. The authorities are working on the case, but have no clue as yet.

DEATH OF COLONEL ZOLLINGER.

Another Prominent Indianan Passes Away.

FORT WAYNE, Dec. 28.—Colonel C. A. Zollinger, mayor of Fort Wayne, died last night at 11:30 of neuralgia of the heart. He had been ill a few days, but had been improving. About one hour before his death he grew rapidly worse and announced to his family that the end was near. He had been many terms mayor, and during the last Cleveland administration was pension agent for the state of Indiana, with headquarters at Indianapolis. He was again a candidate for the position, the only one named for the place, and the appointment was daily expected.

Colonel Zollinger served through the war and came out a colonel. He was a Republican formerly, but for many years back has been very active in Democratic politics, and at the time of his death was chairman of the Democratic county committee.

Missing Boys Heard From.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Dec. 28.—Robert Wilson, aged 9, of 267 John street, Cincinnati, and Robert Wall, same age, of 95 Central avenue, who were reported missing from their homes on Christmas, are supposed to have been in this city and the police are now looking for them. Two boys giving the same names and answering other descriptions perfectly took breakfast in this city yesterday morning at the residence of Mr. Charles Howard, division superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad.

Demanding Work.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 28.—Five hundred unemployed men of Allegheny City met in the Sixth ward schoolhouse last night and adopted resolutions declaring that it was the duty of the municipality to furnish work for the unemployed to support themselves and families. A committee of 10 was appointed to call upon the mayor and council and demand work. In this city over 2,000 men are now working in the parks at $1 per day. The money to pay these men is being furnished by popular subscription.

Jail Breakers Arrested.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Dec. 28.—A telegram received by Sheriff A. G. Thompson states that Hans Hydrick and Claude Shepard, who escaped from jail here Aug. 15, charged with murder and burglary respectively, have been captured at Jackson, Miss., by Detective W. A. Clay of this city. After their escape it is charged they robbed the St. Louis and San Francisco train at Mount Valley, Kan., Sept. 3, and killed Wells-Fargo Messenger C. A. Chapman. They are now being taken to Kansas.

Second Degree Murder.

TOLEDO, Dec. 28.—The jury in the case of Christian Schorling brought in a verdict of guilty in the second degree yesterday afternoon. Schorling deliberately shot and killed Bessie Sharp, his sweetheart, on Nov. 1, while the two were drinking in a saloon. He is a heavy drinker, and a first degree verdict was not brought in as the jury thought this in a measure made him irresponsible. There has been but one verdict of first degree rendered in Lucas county since its organization.

Farmer Murdered.

AKRON, O., Dec. 28.—John O'Donald, a farmer living at Barton, was found yesterday dead in the road with a bad wound on his temple. He and his brother-in-law, John Judge, were in town together the previous evening and started home intoxicated. Judge was searched for and found in a swamp nearly frozen. Late yesterday afternoon he recovered sufficiently to admit that he had a fight with O'Donald. He is being held awaiting the coroner's verdict.

Hand Horribly Mangled and Burned.

MUNCIE, Ind., Dec. 28.—Miss Mary Wilson, employed at the Cottage steam laundry, met with a terrible accident. Her right hand was caught between the hot cylinders, used in ironing shirts and handkerchiefs. The whole hand was slowly pulled through the space and was held there some time until the rolls could be separated. The flesh was mangled and cooked and the bones crushed.

Chairman Harbored Ill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Word has come here from Philadelphia that William Harbort, chairman of the Democratic national committee, is seriously ill with the grip and fears are expressed as to his recovery. His physician has ordered him south as soon as he is able to be moved, but Mr. Harbort refuses to go until all the federal appointments in Pennsylvania are distributed.

Man and Woman Drowned.

SABUL STE MARIE, Mich., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Andrew Tripp and an unknown man were drowned near Detour yesterday while crossing the ice from Drummond island with a dogteam. The bodies have not been recovered.

Chicago's New Mayor.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—As mayor of Chicago John P. Hopkins was inaugurated in the council chamber last night amid a throng of representative citizens of Chicago who filled the council room almost to suffocation.

Case Postponed.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—The case of Henry B. Shields, the wealthy Ohio man charged with kidnaping Mr. Byers, a Pittsburgh millionaire, was yesterday continued until Jan. 5.

Blinded by a Firecracker.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Dec. 28.—Morris Gore, 12 years old, was blinded in the left eye by the premature discharge of a cannon firecracker.

Gutted by Fire.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 28.—The new Moulton block was gutted by fire last night. One man perished. Loss $200,000.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

British Soldiers Slaughtered by the Matabeles.

THEIR BODIES THEN MUTILATED.

A Scouting Party Under Command of Captain Wilson Surrounded by King Lobengula's Men and Not a Soul Escaped. The Number Said to Be Several Hundred.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—A terrible disaster is said to have occurred to the scouting party, under the command of Captain Wilson, which has been in pursuit of King Lobengula and which has not been heard from for some time past.

Several South African merchants in this city received cable messages announcing that Captain Wilson's force had been completely annihilated by the Matabeles, who are said to have cut them to pieces.

The news of the disaster to the British scouting party was received by Mosenthal & Sons, merchants, of 72 Basinghall street, and by a broker named Hirsch, as well as by several other people doing business in the city.

It is stated now that in addition to Wilson's party, the party under Captain Barrow, sent out to reinforce him, has been cut to pieces.

No press dispatches have been received which either confirm or contradict these alarming reports.

The number of men composing the Wilson detachment is said to have been from 40 to 100 and the Barrow detachment is reported to have been composed of about the same number of men.

The news has caused the greatest excitement throughout the city and is being magnified on all sides. Rumors which are undoubtedly exaggerated have it that the two columns were composed of several hundred men and that after being completely surrounded by the Matabeles they were charged upon repeatedly and slaughtered to a man, their bodies being afterward horribly mutilated.

DONJAN'S CASE GOES OVER.

The Letter-Writing Crank Will Be Prosecuted on Two Charges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Joseph Donjan, the letter-writing crank who sent epistles to Vice President Stevenson, Senator Mills and prominent public men, was to have been arraigned in the police court yesterday, but there was some delay in preparing the warrants and the case went over.

It has been decided by the prosecuting attorney to prosecute Donjan on two separate charges, one of forging the name of his father to a postal note or order, and the other for sending threatening and scandalous matter on postal cards or on the outside of envelopes through the mails. Each of these offenses is a felony under the federal statutes.

Brakeman Shot by Tramps.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 28.—Richard Schooley, a Baltimore and Ohio brakeman, is lying in the Cottage hospital here with a dangerous bullet wound in his head, and his recovery is very doubtful. He was shot near Port Perry last night by a gang of colored tramps whom he put off his train. They opened fire on him and one shot took effect at the base of the skull. The tramps made their escape.

Tame Prize Fight.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—In a lively 14-round mill here last night Dan Daly, who was defeated by Solly Smith and Johnnie Vanheest, knocked out Al Neist in the presence of 150 spectators. The fight was tame, Neist, who is a graduate from local amateur circles, being on the defensive throughout. Daly was unmarked. Neist weighed 115 pounds and Daly 122 pounds.

Maintains His Innocence.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., Dec. 28.—Phil Evans, the condemned rapist who is to hang on Jan. 5, still maintains his innocence. The determined look, bold front and strong voice have all disappeared, however, and he realizes his fate. It is believed that Evans will break down and tell all at an early date. Jailer Roby watches his prisoner closely and escape is impossible.

Railroad Assigns.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The New England railroad, after a very troublesome career, has passed into the hands of a receiver. The application was made to Judge Wallace in the United States court at Albany. The court appointed ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt as temporary receiver. Mr. Platt is one of the directors of the company.

Swept By Fire.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The entire upper end of Narrowsburg, N. Y., has been swept by fire. The following buildings were burned: Guthell's hotel, barns and outbuildings; Uch's hotel, Gree's dry goods store, Heinle Brothers' store, Decker's mills, Crocker's drug store, Kuhn's dwelling. The loss is large and insurance slight.

Money Matters and a Woman.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Dec. 28.—W. M. Stephens and a Mr. Stout, two prominent farmers living near Cornville, quarreled yesterday about money matters and a woman, Stephens assaulting Stout with a knife, cutting and stabbing him several times and then shot him to death with a revolver.

Two Servant Girls Found Dead.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Catherine Eade and Mary Lamer, servants employed at 26 East Fifty-seventh street, were found dead in their room yesterday, supposed to have been suffocated by gas. An investigation will be made by the coroner.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY.

King of the Former Prepared to Use Force to Maintain the Union.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Times prints a Berlin article on the relations of Sweden and Norway. It says there is every reason to believe that the King of Sweden is prepared to use force to maintain the union between the countries.

The Swedes have been aroused by the attitude of the Norwegian radicals to such a pitch of exasperation that a little will easily goad them to action. If separation becomes necessary it might be feasible to place Prince Waldemar of Denmark on the throne of independent Norway to found a Norwegian dynasty. Prince Waldemar is 35 years old and has three children, all boys.

The Briton Shocked.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Telegraph in commenting upon the alleged discovery at Abilene, Kan., of a plot to kidnap President Cleveland's little daughter Ruth, says that it hopes it is only the story of an American writer who happened to be short of Christmas copy. In view, however, of similar exploits like the abduction of Charlie Ross, the Telegraph adds that it is impossible to entirely dismiss the story as unfounded.

New Atlantic Post Routes.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Rt. Hon. Arnold Morley, the postmaster general, has written a letter to John Mains, member of the house of commons for West Donagel, in which he states that when the present contract for carrying the transatlantic mails by the way of Queenstown shall have expired, the advantages presented by all routes for onward bound American mails, including that by the way of Moville, will be considered.

$742,193,000

Now Stored in the Immense Vaults in the Treasurer's Office.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—There is probably no more interesting place in the treasury department to sightseers than the immense vaults in the treasurer's office, where so much gold, silver and United States securities are stored. The recent immense travel eastward from the world's fair, in addition to the ordinary number of sightseers, has taxed the capacity of the treasury guides to the utmost. The most frequent question asked of these guides is the amount of money stored in the vaults. For a ready answer to these questions the office has prepared a brief printed statement showing the amount and description of the contents of each of the eight vaults. These are kept by many of the tourists as souvenirs of their trip to Washington.

The figures presented show that there are stored in the vaults a total of $742,193,000, the part consisting of coin weighing about 5,000 tons. The following are the amounts and description of money in the eight vaults: Standard silver dollars, $149,860,000; gold coin, $11,500,000; fractional silver, $338,000; national bank notes received for redemption, $3,500,000; mixed moneys received daily for redemption, $1,000,000; mixed moneys for daily use, $1,000,000; bonds held as security for national bank circulation, $250,000,000; held as a reserve to replace worn and mutilated notes unfit for circulation, $325,000,000.

Everything Quiet Now.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 28.—A special to The Times-Union from Wildwood, the scene of the war between the races, says everything is quiet there. The Tampa and Ocala rifles arrived at 11 o'clock last night, but as there was no negroes to be found and all was quiet, they returned to their homes this morning. While everything is very quiet at this hour, there is some feeling of uneasiness. Isaiah Ryan is the only negro positively known to have been killed. Six of the negroes who were leaders and took part in the riot, have been arrested and taken by Sheriff Chapman to Sumterville jail. It is thought all danger is now past.

Defaulter Demented.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 28.—Two years ago Dave Morrison, circuit court clerk of Scott county, Va., was discovered to be a defaulter to the amount of $30,000. He was arrested, but soon afterward escaped from custody and his whereabouts have since been unknown. A dispatch from Bristol, Tenn., says that Morrison has made his appearance at Gate City and that he is a raving maniac. It is believed that he never left the country and has been in hiding at his father's home, from whence he has escaped since becoming demented.

Vaccine Point for a Toothpick.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Thomas J. Keane, the partner of "Parson" Davies, wanted a toothpick Tuesday night, and finding a vaccine point immediately proceeded to use it. He did not discover his mistake for a half hour, during which time he industriously chewed the ivory. When the point was duly identified by a doctor Mr. Keane was a much scared man. Physicians, however, assured him that he would recover, and Mr. Keane at once began devoting himself to a strictly soup and soft food diet.

Dig Cut in Wages.

KITTANNING, Pa., Dec. 28.—There was a sweeping reduction in wages inaugurated yesterday at the Ford City plate-glass works. The cuts ran from 7 to 30 per cent, according to the grade of pay, the higher grades getting the heaviest cuts in proportion. There is no talk of resistance on the part of the operatives, but the matter is to be formally considered.

Dynamiters in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 28.—A dynamite bomb was exploded on the porch of Lilly Anty's house, 75 Howard lane, Oakland, last night, breaking the door from the hinges and smashing all the glass in the house. The adjoining houses, 77, 79 and 81, were also badly damaged. The miscreant who threw the bomb, or his motives for doing so, are not known.

FLAG HAULED DOWN.

The Stars and Stripes Fired on by Brazilians.

TORN FROM A VESSEL'S MASTS.

The Captain and His Crew Imprisoned and Kept There Without Food—Finally They Were Released After the United States Minister Had Been Appealed to For Justice.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—The American schooner Grace Andrews, commanded by Captain O. A. Andrews, has arrived here from Brazil. Captain Andrews tells the following story: "I arrived at Rio Janeiro April 12 last," said the captain, "from Fernandina, and in June left for Angra Des Reis.

"On Sept. 5 I went to Rio to attend to some of the ship's business. I arrived there in the evening and started for the home of L. S. Andrews, my brother, who is in business there. I was halted by Peixoto's soldiers and held captive that night, but managed early the next morning to get to a hotel. Two days later I started back for San Goncalo, where my vessel was, and on reaching there I was informed by my consignee that owing to the revolution it would be impossible to load my vessel and it would be necessary for me to return to Rio and cancel the charter.

"I started back for Rio in my ship's small boat. I took with me an interpreter and a Portuguese sailor and the two colored seamen. When we were within hailing distance of a small settlement, the name of which I can not remember, I saw hundreds of soldiers running toward the beach, all centering at the point we had to pass.

"I hoisted the American flag, but they shouted in Spanish what my interpreter said was 'If you don't stop we will shoot you.'

"The soldiers thought we were trying to get away, so they fired several shots at us. I then hauled the boat around and drove her upon the beach among them, and they sprang into the water after us and placed us under arrest.

"They hauled down the American flag and placed us in a barrack for several hours. I was then taken to Rio Janeiro, while my men were held at Santa Cruz.

"After reaching there I was taken before the chief of police, who committed me to prison without any food.

"I protested against the treatment and begged for something to eat and finally was sent out in charge of a detective to procure food. When I got the detective clear of the prison I forced him to permit me to see the American consul. We reached Mr. Towne's office and when I explained to him the unjust manner in which myself and men had been treated he accompanied me back to the chief of police and after some argument I was released.

"I made a long report to the consul about the pulling down of the American flag from my boat, but he paid no attention to it.

"He is no American," continued the skipper.

"Several American vessels have been pierced by stray shots from Mello's forces, which are growing in strength rapidly."

Captain Andrews says he was surprised at the accounts of the revolution, as they appeared in American papers, and claims the actual facts are suppressed by the Brazilian officials.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

Loyal Garrison Demoralized by Sheer Hunger.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The Herald's Montevideo advices from Rio say that word has reached this city from Rio Grande do Sul that the loyal garrison in Bage is being sadly demoralized by sheer hunger, due to the difficulties of getting provisions through the insurgent lines. Peixoto is said to be considering the advisability of ordering the Nichero and America to go to Rio and make an attack upon Cobras island and upon the insurgents' ships which now lie at anchorage among the foreign vessels in the bay.

The feeling in Rio seems to be that anything which would end the present state of suspense would be a relief.

RECOVERED HIS SPEECH.

His Hearing Also Returned to Him After Many Days.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 28.—Quite a remarkable cure, or rather recovery, is reported from Waveland, in Montgomery county. George Babbitt suddenly recovered the use of the senses of speech and hearing. Five years ago Babbitt was injured while working in the Indianapolis car shops, a falling shaft breaking an arm and a leg and crushing his skull. He was treated for months in an Indianapolis hospital, the attending surgeons removing the fractured bones in his skull and substituting a silver plate. He was finally discharged, but not within the past week has he been able to speak a word or hear a sound, however loud. He has been for some time past employed on the farm of John Heslar of Waveland, and the other day he slipped and fell. Almost immediately he was attacked with terrible pains in the head, and a doctor worked with him for many hours, the unfortunate man at times being almost in convulsions. Suddenly the pains left him after a violent paroxysm, and Babbitt found, to his great surprise and delight, that he could both hear and speak. His hearing was perfect and his speech only impaired by the fact that the chords lacked exercise and practice. In two days' time he was able to talk as plainly as ever. Mr. Heslar had intended to present him with a fine colt as a Christmas gift, it is said, but Babbitt declined it, saying that he had "enough Christmas for 20 men."

The editor of the BULLETIN wants it distinctly understood that he alone is responsible for the articles recently published in this paper concerning the A. P. A. Had the proprietors of the BULLETIN been consulted, it is extremely doubtful whether either of the articles in question would have ever appeared. This much in response to a statement in the Public Ledger. The editor of the BULLETIN is as strong a Protestant as there is in Maysville, but he is not a bigot, and he never allows his prejudice to override his sense of what is just and right. Nor does he believe that the public school system—about which the A. P. A.'s harp so much—is in any danger of being destroyed.

The idea that the sentiments of 60,000,000 people will ever be overridden by that of 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 is absurd to men who will but stop and consider for a moment. The editor of the BULLETIN is firmly opposed to any secret political association. If any set of men have a fight to make let them do it openly and in a manly way, and if their cause is just they need have no fear as to the outcome.

Hart in Robertson.

Speaking of Hon. R. K. Hart's visit to Robertson County last week, pushing his candidacy for Congress, the Advance says: "Mr. Hart is a genial, affable gentleman, and has an enviable reputation as a legislator throughout the State, having represented his county in the House several terms most ably and conscientiously. He found many warm supporters here, and in our opinion there are but few men in the district who could carry this county over him for the Democratic nomination."

C. and O. Extensions.

Railroad construction on most railroads since the present financial depression set in has been practically at a standstill. Reports come from every direction that no improvements are being made by any of the roads. It is, therefore, a matter of comment that the C. and O. has continued all through this dull season to add to its facilities for handling freight and passenger traffic. Work is being pushed on the track on the south side of New River, between Hawk's Nest and Turmond, W. Va., and it will be opened for traffic in the early part of January. This gives the C. and O. three tracks over a large stretch of the New River district, as there is already a long stretch of double track on the north side of the river. When the connection with Hawk's Nest is made in January, the C. and O. will have about 125 miles of double track west of Clifton Forge, and it has practically 200 miles of double track east of Clifton Forge. These improvements are being carried on out of the earnings of the road, which, in spite of the loss in gross revenue, have every month, without exception, a very satisfactory net gain.

PITHY POINTS.

To take up an old story, it seems very plain now that Dr. Burchard got the inception of his disastrous alliteration, "rum, Romanism and rebellion" from Dr. Radway, of "Radway's Ready Relief" fame. The doctor was evidently under the impression that his would prove a panacea for all the ills of the Republican body politic, just as Dr. Radway had claimed his would cure all the ills of the physical body. Dr. Burchard's, though, threw his party into confusion and convulsion, from which it has never yet recovered.

Were Ingersoll honest and sincere in his avowal of unbelief in the Bible he would not make such a continual outcry about it, for men never bother themselves in regard to that which they do not believe, nor show any concern whatever about it.

There is no such thing as a man not believing the Bible, as all men of sound mind who ever heard anything of its teachings have an intellectual belief therein, although they may utterly reject it with their hearts.

Give us anything in the shape of a man other than the one that for greed of money would send your son or mine to an everlasting hell.

Bob Ingersoll is no more an infidel than are all other men who have only an intellectual belief in the Bible.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

They Organize Joseph E. Johnston Camp—Objects of the Association.

Captain John Boyd, of Lexington, visited Maysville yesterday, and a meeting of the ex-Confederates was held at the office of Judge Wall, and Joseph E. Johnston Camp, United Confederate Veterans, was organized. Captain Boyd, is President of the Association in Kentucky. Dr. A. H. Wall was elected Vice President, and Mr. John W. Boulden, Adjutant of the local camp, and Judge Garrett S. Wall and Hon. Walter S. Matthews, the Executive Committee.

The following ex-Confederates united with the organization: Messrs. Sanford H. Mitchell, Daniel Perrine, M. Willis Coulter, Major Thomas J. Chenoweth, Alexander Duke and Arthur Griffin. Dr. A. H. Wall, Judge Garrett S. Wall, Mr. William S. Robb, Mr. John W. Boulden, Hon. Walter S. Matthews and Mr. Hugh M. Warder had previously joined the association at Lexington, but were transferred to the local camp, which thus starts with a membership of twelve. There are about forty ex-Confederates in the county, and all of them should unite with the association.

The purpose of the association is explained by Article II of Constitution, which says: "The object of this association shall be the cultivation of social relations among those who were honorably engaged in the service of the Confederate States of America; to preserve the fraternal ties of comradeship; to aid and assist those of its members who, from disease, misfortune, or the infirmities of age, may become incapable of supporting themselves or families; to pay a decent respect to the remains and to the memory of those who die, and to see that no worthy member shall ever become an object of public charity."

WINTER WHEAT.

Reports From Principal Stations Are Favorable—Figures for Farmers.

C. A. King & Co., of Toledo, O., received replies from 3,384 grain men and millers in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri, which raise two-thirds the entire wheat crop. Each State reports a smaller acreage than last year. Michigan has nearly one fourth less, and Missouri one-fifth, these showing the greatest decrease. The crop goes into the winter in good condition. Some sections say it was a little dry for the late sowing. Six hundred and thirty-five report the prospect excellent, 1,239 good, 1,214 fair, 383 poor and only 75 say it is a very poor start.

The report show that about three-eighths of the 1893 wheat crop, which was a short one, still remains in farmers', dealers' and interior millers' hands in the six States.

Half of the reports say the reserves are about the same as a year ago. Ohio has a trifle more, Indiana and Michigan fully as much. Illinois a trifle less, while Kansas and Missouri have somewhat less. Kansas and Missouri have only enough to supply the local mills until next harvest, Michigan and Illinois will grind most of their surplus, but Ohio and Indiana have a surplus for shipment.

Less than a quarter of the clover seed crop remains unmarketed. Most of the sections which report fair stocks say it will be needed at home.

Mrs. Mary Craven.

Mrs. Craven was the widow of the late Thomas Craven and leaves but one child, Mrs. Andrew Roth. Deceased was a sister of Mr. Michael McGighe, of Lewisburg.

SPRINGDALE.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McDonald were shopping in Maysville a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coryell were guests at the Lookout House last week.

S. B. Tully, Henry Otto and John Otto attended the Xmas tree at Sand Hill.

Elder T. P. Degman will preach at Orangeburg Christian Church Sunday next.

Marshal McManneman is C. and O. agent at this place in the absence of R. B. Cross.

Mr. George Hook has gone to Lebanon, Ohio, where he will attend school for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McDonald were calling on friends at Highland Farm last Sunday evening.

R. B. Cross, our courteous telegraph operator, has gone to his home in Ohio to spend the holidays.

Messrs. George and Charles McManneman are guests of their brother, Marshal, at the Lookout House.

S. D. Wheeler, of Covington, is here in charge of the night office for the C. and O., in place of R. B. Cross.

S. B. Tully, of Lexington Business College, is spending the holidays with his parents at this place.

Christmas passed off seemingly joyous to all at this place. Many pretty and useful presents were given and received by old and young.

Ride Round the Circle.

The BULLETIN'S Desha Valley reporter was out making calls Christmas day. The weather was exhibiting its poetic beauties. The sky was burnished with golden glory, the atmospheric breathings were balmy. The old fellow (December) is going out in high glee when we consider that the last of the months is fading away forever.

Regretted to learn that our early cotemporary, W. A. Hutchison, was suffering from "oft infirmities." He was once a fine correspondent.

Called at "Maple Grove," finding Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laytham enjoying a quiet Christmas, reading Sunday Enquirer and Chicago Times, and unpacking their Christmas souvenirs received from lady friends whom they had entertained this summer and fall. Miss Anna was in Covington, having "heard Patti Friday night with delight, of course," she postals.

Miss Em Browning is home from her business stay at Hannibal, Mo., and is making things very gay at "The Oaks."

Master Commissioner Kehoe's bills are up on the gate posts notifying the public that "Squire Dye's" farm will be sold on the 20th of January. This beautiful estate with its handsome residence, cozy tenant house, big prize barn, large stable, orchard, meadow, pools, wells, shrubbery, &c., ought to have been advertised in the county papers. Such is the custom in Fayette and Bourbon with the Master Commissioners. Is not this the law?

In society circles all the talk is of the January weddings. We will soon have youth and beauty and orange blossoms, and snow and a golden wedding. Now is the time to get your presents ready, for "behold the bridegroom cometh."

Found Captain Jackson with a well furnished store ready to wait on his patrons.

The new postmaster, Willie Jackson, is very obliging to visitors.

We found Mr. John Caldwell, our widower, at home and all alone and very sad over the death of his sister Rebecca. As death came slowly on an angel hand had robbed the spectre of its terror and the grave of its sting. So that all gently and unconsciously to herself life glided into the great ocean where the shadows lie and the spirit without guile was severed from its mansion without pain.

Met the amiable and beloved priest Father Hickey returning from celebrating the opening festival of the Catholic Church, pronouncing the rite of absolution to the penitent and confirmation to the baptized. This is one of the largest churches in the county, claiming a membership of fifteen hundred.

The colored population was out by hundreds, well dressed and orderly.

THE TOBACCO FAIR.

Prize Winners at Thompson & McAtee's
Second Annual Exhibition.

A Fine Display of the Weed—Parties
From a Distance Who Were Present.

Thompson & McAtee's second annual tobacco fair was held yesterday in the large warehouse of Mr. B. A. Wallingford, where there was plenty of room and light for such exhibition. The display of the weed was pronounced the best ever seen in Maysville, notwithstanding the weather was very unfavorable for handling tobacco. Many farmers were disappointed in not getting their samples in order for the display, but stated they would be on hand at the third annual fair in 1894.

The following were fortunate enough to carry off the premiums:

Colonel R. M. Marshall, Sardis, $25 for best sample fancy cutting leaf.
J. C. Stephenson, Murphysville, $15 for second best sample fancy cutting leaf.
John Worthington, Murphysville, $10 for third best sample fancy cutting leaf.
J. A. McIntyre, Rectorville, $5 for fourth best sample fancy cutting leaf.
Walton & Grogan, Germantown, $20 for best sample plug filler.
J. A. McIntyre, Rectorville, $15 for second best sample plug filler.
S. D. Gardner, Rectorville, $10 for third best sample plug filler.
Edward Sallee, Germantown, $5 for fourth best sample plug filler.

The premiums were all paid in gold.

The judges were Messrs. Langhorn Anderson, of Cincinnati, E. Garrison, of Aberdeen, D. A. Ellis, of Aberdeen, Andy Howard, of Murphysville, and Dr. John M. Frazee, of this city.

There was a large crowd in attendance. Among those present from a distance were W. B. Allen, Cincinnati, of the Farmers' and Shippers' Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, Langhorn Anderson, of the Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company. The country surrounding Maysville was well represented by growers and dealers.

Everyone present was pleased with the display, and gave a unanimous verdict in favor of Crocker's Kentucky Tobacco Fertilizer as giving the best results of any fertilizer yet introduced into this section of the State. As heretofore stated Messrs. Thompson & McAtee sold the past season 500,000 pounds of this fertilizer, and anticipate a much larger trade the coming season.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Sim Rosenau of the Bee Hive is in Philadelphia, visiting his parents.

Mrs. E. A. Hill is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Wilson, of Covington.

Colonel R. G. Lynn has returned to Cincinnati and will leave in a few days for Hot Springs.

Mrs. W. A. P. Lurty, of Dover, has been spending several days with Mrs. Frank Gerbrich.

Professor G. W. Manley, of Dennison University, of Granville, O., is a guest of Rev. R. G. Patrick.

JAMES RATCHFORD languishes in the Covington jail charged with the murder of Martin Finn, a young farmer who lived near Falmouth. Finn was found dead on the roadside with his head beaten into a jelly, almost. Ratchford had had trouble previously with the murdered man, and suspicion at once fell on him. A necktie found on the scene of the struggle was identified as one worn by the accused. Judge Lynch will probably dispose of Ratchford if he is returned to Falmouth.

THE Christmas tree at Sardis bore fruit most abundantly. Over three hundred gifts were distributed, the children receiving the bulk, while the adults also received some very handsome and useful presents. The reading by Miss Sallie Hildreth, the recitation by Miss Katie Wightman, the address by Rev. G. N. Jolly and the impromptu speech by Elder Degman were received with rounds of applause. The single verse recitations by the little Misses Nannie Suit, Grace Jolly, Lula Fields, Mattie Downing, Dora Bratton and Florence Jefferson were sweetly rendered. Rev. Heber Wightman acted as master of ceremonies and Miss Katie Wightman presided at the organ, while Joe Briney Grigsby gave some appropriate cornet solos.

THE Desha Valley Reporter having several angelic widows and antique widowers to rejuvenate and write up matrimonially prevented his acceptance of the BULLETIN'S Springdale correspondent's invitation to dine at "Lookout House" Christmas day. The Colonel is glad to hear of Elder Degman's success in winning souls to the banner of the lowly Nazarene in his Illinois campaign, and trusts he came home not only with his spiritual strength renewed, but with a purse lined with yellow-boys, inspiring his heart for his Christmas grace with increased unction, and giving him greater zeal and power in his aggressive forays upon the domain of that insidious enemy, Diabolus. Sixty-nine recruits to the grand army of Jehovah, in a few weeks drumming, is a deed meriting special mention.

GOLD-HEADED canes, scarf pins, cuff buttons, shirt studs, opera glasses and jewel cases make a very appropriate gift. Great reduction in these goods.

THE books of the Limestone Building Association are open for the subscription of stock to the ninth series. Call on H. C. Sharp, Secretary, James Threlkeld, Treasurer, C. D. Newell, Solicitor, or any of the Directors.

DON'T fail to see the elegant bargains offered by Murphy, the jeweler. These bargains are too numerous to attempt to enumerate them. Every article in his store you can buy fully 25 per cent. less than elsewhere. Successor to Hopper & Murphy.

CARL EWING, of Lexington, filled himself with "booze," went home and threw a lighted lamp at his wife. An explosion followed and the spot that once knew the house now knows it no more. It was a rather expensive drunk for Carl and the owner of the building.

TO-NIGHT is positively the last night of the K. of P. entertainment at Neptune Hall. Music by Stewart's Cornet Orchestra. Be sure and come. It was the intention to close last night but the managers yielded to the many requests and continued it one night longer.

MR. FREDERICK L. KEMPER, a brother of Mr. Philip Kemper of this city, was married at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon to Miss Chloe Hall, a daughter of the late Joseph Hall of the Hall Safe and Lock Company. The bride is one of the heirs to an estate of over $1,000,000.

THE Sabbath school of the Central Presbyterian Church will have their Christmas entertainment to-morrow (Friday) at 6:30 p. m. The programme embraces music, addresses and refreshments. The congregation and all connected with the school are cordially invited.

NEAR Peebles, Adams County, one day last week, Lyman Storer, Walter Varney and W. H. Sullivan, neighboring farmers, slaughtered eleven fat hogs at the latter's home. That night the porkers were left out to cool, and the next morning they were all missing. Thieves secured a big haul during the night.

SIXTY shares of stock in the First National Bank of Georgetown, O., belonging to the estate of the late Joseph Cochran, were sold Saturday at public auction, in blocks of ten. It brought from 139 to 142. Fourteen shares of stock in the Citizens' National Bank of Ripley were also sold and brought 100 1/2 and 100 1/4.

COVINGTON Post: "Mrs. Major Whippis entertained at her elegant home on Garrard street last Thursday a few intimate friends with an old-fashioned Kentucky dinner. Among the guests were: Elizabeth Bryant Johnson, the gifted authoress and aunt of Marie Decca; Mrs. Jackson, of Chicago; Mrs. Dashiell Stephenson, Mrs. Laura Worthington, Miss Alice Worthington and Miss Ida Walton."

THE Circuit Court of Lyon County has rendered a verdict of nearly $18,000 against the Mason-Ford Company, in favor of Jordan & Clark, sub-contractors, for work done on Eddyville penitentiary for the Ford Company. Jordan & Clark had already obtained a verdict of $16,000, all of which will tend to strengthen the cases of Mason-Ford Company against the State for the same and similar work, now pending in Court of Appeals and Franklin Circuit Court as the Fiscal Court of the Commonwealth.

River News.

The Keystone State for Pittsburg and Congo for Pomeroy due up to-night. Sherley down.

The coal shipments from Pittsburg on this week's rise are not very large.

I WILL continue the reduced prices on ladies' and gent's gold watches until January 1st. I will guarantee these prices fully 20 per cent. less than elsewhere.
P. J. MURPHY,
Successor to Hopper & Murphy.

COMPTON, AULT & Co., of Cincinnati, gave Thomas Browning, of Shannon, one of their thirteen drummers, a handsome gold watch for a Christmas gift. He sold the past year a larger invoice of goods than any other drummer on the road.

A SHIPMENT of 1,800 live chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese was brought down from Flemingsburg one day last week and sent East over the C. and O. They were nicely cooped and filled a freight car. A man was aboard the train to feed and care for them.

EDWARD CULLEN, living near Harrodsburg, went home drunk Christmas eve and was upbraided by some of his family for his condition. He felt the censure so keenly that he bade them all farewell, stepped to the door and pulling a pistol shot himself dead.

VOLUME I No. 1 of the Augusta Daily Reporter is at hand. It is "written, edited, published, printed, issued and sold" by Sam. Stairs, Perrin Heavener and Ben. Martin, and like all the papers Stairs ever had anything to do with, it is bright and newsy. Success to it.

THE application of C. P. Huntington to have a receiver appointed for the C. O. and S. W. railroad will be heard before Judge Lurton at Nashville to-day. It is said to be simply a scheme of the railway magnate to further the move looking to a consolidation of the road with the L. and N. Kentucky's attorneys will be on hand to fight the application.

Gas Excepted.

Ministers sometimes play good jokes upon themselves. Rev. Thomas K. Beecher tells the following:

"Some years ago a young man named Plympton came to Elmira to take charge of a paper. I was in the habit of publishing my church notices in the paper, and one Saturday night the gas gave out and promised to stay out for a day or two. So I ran over to Plympton and said: 'Just say, "Services as usual, excepting the gas."'
"Shall I print it in just that way?" asked Plympton.

"Certainly," I said, and left him. He did publish it that way, and next day narrowly escaped being tarred and feathered at the hands of a committee of my deacons, who thought he was ridiculing me."—Ram's Horn.

ALLIGATORS LIKE THIS FAMILY.

They Ate the Old Man and Little Girl and Had a Taste of Each of the Sons.

As an instance of strange coincidences, there is living near this place a family whose history would seem to exceed the bonds of credibility. Seven years ago the father, old Daddy Dick, as he was called, sat down on the banks of the Caloosahatchee river and is supposed to have fallen asleep. At any rate, only his hat and rod were found on the bank that night, while a heap of clothes and crushed bones under a floating log told of his death by an alligator. He left two sons and a little girl 8 years old.

One day this child wandered down to the river, and her mother arrived just in time to see her drawn under the water by the long, black spout of an alligator. Last year Dick, the namesake of his father and a man of 80, also went fishing in the river, and the day being warm closed his eyes for a nap, to be awakened by his leg disappearing down the throat of one of these reptiles. He would have been pulled off his log, but cast his arms about a tree near by and held on, but he had to sacrifice his leg, which the 'gator bit off just above the knee. It was the right one.

The end of the singular history of this family occurred last week. The other brother, Lem, was paddling down the river in a dugout when his clumsy craft was upset by an enormous alligator. A race then began for the shore between the man and the reptile, but just as Lem gained the bank and was pulling himself up to safety the alligator seized him by the right leg and drew him back. He called loudly for help, and his brother came running out of their cabin with a shotgun, and without waiting to take aim fired into the water. The bullet hit Lem in the other leg and broke the knee cap. He would have sunk now, for the reptile, which still had him, was for diving to get out of the way of the fusillade. Dick was pouring into the river, but the drowning man caught at the dugout, which was floating bottom upward and within his reach, and resisted the 'gator's efforts to draw him under.

Dick now succeeded in killing the beast by a shot through its head and then got Lem to the shore. But he had to have both legs amputated, for the alligator had broken one into several pieces, splintering the bone terribly, while Dick's shot had shattered the bone of the other, so as to render that also a menace to his life if not removed. Lem declares his intention of sitting some distance back upon the bank of the river and killing every alligator that dares to lift its ugly muzzle above the surface. Pine Level (Fla.) Dispatch.

ONE DOLLAR PER HUG.

How Entertaining Iowa Girls Helped the Church and Matrimony.

Down in an Iowa town, not so very far below the Minnesota line, there is a progressive little church. Some time ago it was found necessary to raise a certain amount for a certain purpose. The young ladies of the church took the matter in hand, and after going over the many ways which had been tried in times past to raise money decided upon a new plan.

They decided to let the young men of the town who felt like doing something in the interest of the church hold their hands for a certain length of time for a given sum—50 cents for holding a girl's hand 25 minutes seems to have been about the average. It is said that the plan worked to a charm, and that the coffers of the church swelled perceptibly after the hand holding social was over. The man who is empowered to issue marriage licenses in that town ought to do a rushing business from this time on, for it was also proposed, and this met with instant favor among the young men, to sell kisses at the average of 75 cents. It is hinted that decorous hugs were to be provided at a uniform price of $1, coin of the realm.—Seattle Telegraph.

October Immigration.

Dr. Senner, the commissioner of immigration at the port of New York, has collected some statistics for the month of October which are of interest in showing us what the United States is receiving from foreign countries. Fifteen thousand four hundred and sixty-six immigrants were landed and brought with them $303,386 in cash. Only 2,650 of them had more than $30, and 5,881 had no trade or regular occupation.

There were 30 teachers, 21 musicians, 11 clergymen, 5 artists, 5 engravers, 3 lawyers, 3 physicians, 2 sculptors, 1 actor, 858 skilled laborers, 210 dressmakers and 56 barbers. Ninety-two were returned, of whom 21 were paupers and 1 a convict.

HORRIBLY MUTILATED.

One Man Cuts and Fatally Wounds His Former Rival in Love.

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 28.—Martin Wendel and Stephen Stabol, rivals for the hand of a woman, met in Sheppstown yesterday for the first time in 12 months. Wendel has always attributed his failure to win the object of his affections to Stabol's influence over her, and had sworn to have revenge. As soon as he saw Stabol yesterday he drew an immense knife from his bosom and made a fierce attack on the man he hated.

The first slash cut out Stabol's right eye and before he could escape Wendel was upon him, trying to cut out the other one. In this he did not succeed, but a second sweep of the big knife sliced off Stabol's nose and severed all the arteries and muscles of the luckless fellow's face, inflicting wounds from the effects of which he will die. The physician in attendance says he never saw a case in which the mutilation was so horrible. Wendel was taken to Pottsville and locked up.

FOUL CRIME.

An Old Lady Murdered and Her House Robbed.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Elizabeth P. Petty, aged 65 years, who lived alone in a frame house at 79 Commerce street, was found murdered in the house yesterday. She had led a solitary life for many years and was considered insane.

When found she had been dead for some time. Her head was crushed in and there were half a dozen stab wounds on her face. The house, which is full of refuse and filth of every kind, was in great confusion. Mrs. Petty was a miser, and was thought to be immensely rich.

Mrs. Petty has been missed since Saturday, and yesterday Willie Carabanti, aged 12 years, who lives next door, went into the house and found Mrs. Petty dead in a little room on the second floor.

The murder is one of the foulest committed in this city for years, and there is not the slightest doubt that robbery was the object of the crime. It was a well known fact that the woman had a large sum of money hidden about the house, and she openly talked of this fact.

A reporter found several bundles of greenbacks hidden away in a large package of lamp black. The money filled a small basket. The woman had evidently been murdered in the hallway. Her hat was found on the floor under a chair and the wall was spattered with blood.

The body had been carried upstairs and laid in the room where it was found. Her clothing had been torn open as though a search had been made on her person for money. The murderer gained entrance to the house through the cellar door, which was found to be unlocked.

The bodies of four dead cats were found lying on the diningroom table covered with a piece of old carpet. The old woman always had a large number of cats in the house and she used to say when alive that she "put money around the floor so that the animals could go and get their dinner at the butcher's."
